Why Creator Types?

The Creator Types system is specifically designed to help people discover the purpose and power of their bodies as a creation tool. Each person holds substantial creative power to bring an idea into reality and yet, this energy often remains dormant or is misdirected and their gifts don't reach fruition. In viewing the body through the lens of nature states, Creator Types enhance a person's innate capacity to manifest their desires and execute their plans in the most effortless way possible, according to their particular physical and energetic nature.

Creator Types provide a well-grounded, animated framework that is easy to learn and apply for both individual and co-creative projects. Once you identify the Creator Types that make up your constitution, you begin to embody your natural creation style on three levels:

1. Articulate and master your creative powers, understanding their natural and disaster states
2. Create a plan by your manifestation strategy, 'staying in your lane' of how you create best
3. Cooperate with other creators, knowing who to call on at various stages of the natural growth cycle

In a group environment, the Creator Types truly come alive as a harmonizing and co-creative force as each person is recognised for their most valuable contribution and can adapt their communication styles to 'speak the language' of each Creator Type.
